EPPS'S COCOA.

(BREAKFAST.)

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well-fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—See article in the Civil Service Gazette.

Messrs. C. MARCKS & COMPANY OF
BOMBAY and POONA,

HAVE the pleasure of announcing that Mr. A. MENIST, Oculist's Optician, of Amsterdam and London, has appointed them AGENTS for the sale of his celebrated PEBBLE SPECTACLES and EYE-GLASSES, BINOCULARS, &c.

Mr. MENIST makes his Frames of Gold and Silver only, which have been found to be the best metals for the purpose, his object being to obtain perfection as nearly as possible, without regard to cost. He does not use steel, for this metal rusts, and the joints become loose, altering the focus of the glasses, and so injuring the eyes ; neither is there any economy in it, for in this climate it corrodes so quickly that it must be often renewed, while Gold or Silver are practically everlasting, and Aluminium cannot be used, for it leaves an indelible mark on the skin wherever it comes in contact with it.

Mr. MENIST'S NON-PRESSURE EYE-GLASSES have a spring so made that it may be twisted in any direction without breaking, and they maintain their position when worn without any pressure or leaving any mark when removed.

His 12-lens "DUCHESSE" are all Achromatic and as powerful as Field Glasses.

His FIELD, MARINE, and OPERA GLASSES may be used for hours without causing the eyes to ache.

Mr. MENIST has left instruments with Messrs. C. MARCKS and Co. which enable them to test each eye separately, for it frequently happens that they differ more or less in power.

MESSRS. C. MARCKS and Co., for the convenience of clients who may not wish to purchase Mr. MENIST'S GLASSES, have also in stock some of their own manufacture, at lower prices, in Gold, Silver, and Steel frames, and though the quality of the pebbles is admittedly not equal to those of Mr. Menist, yet it is very good, and much superior to most of what is sold as the "finest Brazilian Pebbles."

Pamphlets may be had on application.

The Bombay Gazette

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1881.

COLONEL GILLESPIE, Assistant Adjutant-General for Musketry, when congratulating the Bombay Volunteers at Saturday's parade upon the serviceable and soldierlike condition in which he found they kept their rifles, took occasion to refer to the shooting of the regiment in the annual class-firing course now proceeding. This year's course, both as regards the volunteers and the regular army, has a special interest from the fact that it is the first since the issue of the order that all regulation shooting is to be done in the regulation positions, which are strictly confined to—standing at 200 yards, the shortest distance shot at ; kneeling at 300 yards ; and the prone, or front, position at the longer distances 500, 600, 700, and 800 yards, beyond which the class-firing course does not extend. The front position has always been known as the regulation position, and the only one prescribed in the musketry instruction book to be followed at the long distances ; but after the introduction of the back position the latter became very popular as one in which the rifle could be held steadier while taking aim, and a large number of soldiers and volunteers adopted it. This gave rise to a controversy on the point whether the back position was a suitable one for service purposes. Its advocates fought hard in its favour, alleging that a man who practised it could assume and rise from that position as easily as the front position, and that much better shooting could be done on the back unless by a man modelled after Longfellow's blacksmith, with "muscles of his brawny arms as strong as iron bands," which description could not with truth be applied either to the boy-soldiers who form so large a proportion of our army nowa-days or to the—at any rate the Bombay—volunteers, as those who saw the bayonet-exercise on Saturday will admit. There were counter-considerations, however, in favour of the front position—amongst them the very strong one that rifle-practice in action is very different work from aiming at a fixed target on a level range, and that the front position affords the marksman a wider field of observation, greater opportunity of getting a fair aim at a moving object, and above all a chance of utilising instead of being impeded by the natural inequalities of the ground. A soldier having to fire from a small or large hill at a body of troops in front would lie on the reverse side of the eminence, exposing only the top of his head and muzzle of his weapon, and would at the same time obtain a rest for his rifle firmer even than that formed by the back-position man with his crossed legs, whereas under the same conditions the latter would have to lie on the top of the hill or on the side nearest the enemy, exposing his own entire person to their fire, in order to get a sight of them when in position to aim. It is not surprising, therefore, that the authorities decided to confine regulation shooting to the regulation, or prone, position as the best suited to actual service, preparation for which all range-practice is of course accounted. The order for class-firing at distances beyond 300 yards, where any position was before allowed, to be done in the prone position is being observed for the first time this year ; and judging from the results, so far as they have yet been ascertained—the drill season and the time for class-firing does not expire till March, and all men have not yet gone through the course—we fancy it will be proved that the position is not so inimical to steady shooting by the average soldier or volunteer as the back-position men supposed it to be. The general figure of merit may not be quite equal to last year's, but it will probably not be far behind ; and it must be remembered that this is the first year in which the prone position has been compulsory, and that many of the men who formerly fired on the back—a large proportion of the best shots in the army, and a still higher proportion in the volunteers—had practised the back position for a long time. Next season, when they have had time to become thoroughly used to their new position, we may expect to see the figure of merit equal to that of any previous year. Amongst the Bombay Volunteers we have some remarkable instances of the value of the front position. One man, Sergeant Murray, of Kirkee, who had shot on his back for the previous three years and had never reached 180 points, has made the magnificent score of 206, about the highest total, we believe, that has ever been made out of the possible 240 of the class-firing course. Another member of the Kirkee Company, Sergeant Brebner, who had also tried the back position for two or three years without getting more than 170 points, has this year made 192. These men are both old front-position shots, who changed over to the back because they considered steadier shooting could be made in it ; and naturally they would take kindly to the front when they returned to it with the advantage of their three years' experience as regards alterations of wind, light, &c. There is another instance in Bombay of a volunteer who had never before shot in the front position, and whose highest score in the three years' courses that have been fired since the formation of the B. V. R. Corps was 171, making this year 183 points. Colonel Gillespie told the corps on Saturday that so far as the shooting in the present annual course has gone, they have done very well ; and he looks forward to seeing the B. V. R. at the head of the musketry returns of the presidency, i. e., with a higher figure of merit, average score per man, than any regiment in the Bombay Army. To gain that position this year, those members of the corps—a large number—who have not yet fired will have to shoot up well, as some excellent shooting has been done amongst the regulars, and they have the G. I. P. Railway Volunteers also to beat. While on the subject of regimental shooting, we may be permitted a few words on musketry instruction. We have seen it stated that the instruction of soldiers in range-firing is of very little practical value, in proof of which it was asserted that in the case of two regiments engaged side by side in a recent engagement repelling the charge of an enemy, by far the greatest number of dead and wounded were left in front of the regiment which in the last previous annual class-firing course had obtained much the worst figure of merit. The argument founded on this is, of course, all nonsense. It is absurd to urge that the one regiment killed fewest of the enemy because it could shoot the best at target-practice. Taking the facts as reliable, it may be that the regiment with the worst reputation for shooting had more men of good nerve and presence of mind in front of the enemy. It is a common charge against the utility of range-firing as a preparation for active service, that a very large proportion of the men in action do not alter the sights of their rifles for the different distances at which they have to fire. Given equal pluck, however, by which we mean steadiness of nerve and presence of mind, in two men (and the same remark applies to the men of two regiments), it stands to reason that the one who can hit a target on the range is more likely to hit a man or body of men in the field than one who at target-practice throws his bullets away into the butt. Probably, in the case quoted, the regiment which killed the greatest number of the enemy had its officers and non-commissioned officers, the section commanders, to thank for its success, because it ordered to adjust the sights of their rifles to a certain distance, men would make the alteration required who if left to themselves would not. In rifle-shooting the first thing necessary for a beginner to learn is to get accustomed to the position. Some men at the outset, in the prone position especially, get badly punished by the recoil of the rifle, and have great difficulty afterwards to overcome the feeling that they must suffer another twinge whenever they pull the trigger, with the consequent tendency to "twitch," and so throw the shot off. The position for a man to get his rifle in when lying on his breast is with the butt resting firmly against the pad formed by the muscles just above the armpit and below the shoulder's point. If the butt is placed higher up, on the collar-bone, or on the wall of the chest, a very tender spot after firing a very few rounds will be the result. Once comfortable in his position and free from anxiety as to the effect of the recoil, the only other requisite to make a man with fair sight and ordinary nerve a good shot—in addition to knowledge of when and how much to alter elevation, allowance for wind, &c., which will come with a little practice—is care in pressing the trigger, which should be squeezed, as if in the gradual closing of a vice, and not pulled. A man may get a beautiful aim, and hold his rifle perfectly steady on the point aimed at ; but if he does not also press the trigger carefully and steadily, resisting the temptation he is sure to feel to pull it off with a jerk, he is certain to make a bad shot. There are plenty of inducements, in the shape of handsome prizes, offered to both soldiers and volunteers to endeavour to become proficient in the use of the rifle ; and with a little time and careful attention rifle-shooting becomes a very pleasant amusement, quite as much so as cricket, billiards, or other games. For purposes of military training we think there are other forms of rifle-practice than shooting at ease at a fixed target which might be paid more attention to than they at present receive, with much benefit. For instance, Tommy Atkins would make better practice against an enemy if his ordinary musketry instruction comprised an occasional hour's potting at the running deer or tiger drawn not too rapidly across the front of the butt ; and another good thing is skirmishing shooting after the style of a match advertised by the Calcutta Volunteers to be shot this month, in which men are allowed three minutes to get off as many shots at a target as they can, running a hundred yards with rifle and ammunition after every two rounds fired. Volley-firing, also, is another matter to which too little attention is paid. For officers a good inducement to practise shooting is held forth by Government in the recent order offering them Martini-Henry carbines for sporting purposes for thirty rupees each, on condition that when they leave the country the weapons are to be returned into store, their value at date of return being refunded out of the thirty rupees originally paid. Many volunteer officers, we fancy, would be glad to know if this privilege will be allowed them, as well as the officers of the regular army.

THE fact that death to two men and serious injury to nine others, and hurts of various degrees to many more, resulted from a pair of pincers being dropped into a bucket containing dynamite is likely to produce an extremely exaggerated notion of the dangerous nature of that explosive. In reality dynamite, in spite of its immense power, is not very liable to produce accidents, because very easy and plain precautions can be taken which will prevent the possibility of its exploding under anything like ordinary circumstances. These plain precautions were disgracefully neglected in the present case. Dynamite should never be in close proximity with the detonators except when an explosion is intended. The accident on the 19th ultimo arose from the dynamite and the detonators being recklessly packed together in the narrow limits of a small bucket. As often as this conjunction is allowed a very small accident may produce a horrible catastrophe. When dynamite is kept isolated it may be pounded with heavy weights, or even burnt, without much damage being caused. The comparative harmlessness of dynamite when separated from detonators has often been practically demonstrated, and never more clearly than on Antop Hill, between Parell and Sion, some fifteen months ago. The experiments were conducted by Mr. John Harris, of the Nobel's Explosive Company, and showed conclusively how well dynamite can bear fire and friction, the usual causes of accidents from explosives. A box containing 50 lbs. of dynamite was crushed by a mass of iron weighing 2 cwt. 15 lbs., which fell from a height of 25 ft. The box was broken in pieces, but no explosion occurred. A material which could stand such a shock might even survive the concussion of a railway accident without exploding. The next experiment subjected the dynamite to a still more violent test. A strong deal box containing ten pounds of dynamite was placed over a metal plate under which was twenty pounds of gunpowder. The gunpowder was exploded, and the plate of iron was driven through the air to a distance of 180 yards. The box was naturally broken into small pieces, which, together with fragments of the dynamite, were scattered over the hill ; but the dynamite nowhere exploded. The third experiment showed that dynamite may even be burnt with impunity. A pound of gunpowder was exploded in the middle of a five-pound packet of dynamite, but the burning fragments of dynamite which were scattered here and there did not explode. The experiments of the harmlessness of the explosive were followed by proofs of its great power when brought into conjunction with the detonators and so predisposed to explosion. The two sets of experiments together proved that it is decidedly less likely to explode by accident than gunpowder, and that, on the other hand, when it does explode it is about six times as powerful. This being the case an accident arising from neglect of the most obvious precautions should not be considered a sufficient justification for a panic-stricken clamour against the use of such a cheap and powerful natural agent.

MILITARY men generally, we are sure, will resent the unwarrantable reflection which a contemporary yesterday threw upon Brigadier-General Aitcheson, in the suggestion that he is not a fit man to preside over the court-martial which is to assemble shortly for the trial of Colonel Malcolmson and Major Currie, because he is a personal friend of General Burrows. The implication of course is—or there is no motive for the paragraph—that the paper in question considers General Aitcheson cannot be trusted to act impartially in the matter, but that his friendship with General Burrows is likely to lead him to do injustice to the officers, who are to be tried on grave charges connected with their conduct at the battle of Maiwand. General Aitcheson may not be the most popular officer in the service on some grounds ; but those even with whom he is least popular will regard this insinuation with impatience. All the same, it would be perhaps better that the court should, if possible, be presided over by an officer who would bring to the inquiry a mind totally unbiassed by previous connection not merely with any of the actors in the unfortunate Maiwand business, but, if possible, by any connection with the head-quarters of the Bombay army. There is no special disability that we can see in General Aitcheson personally, but the objection is as applicable to him as to other Poona men that it is not desirable that a court-martial which, while sitting technically to try Colonel Malcolmson and Major Currie, will sit really in judgment on all who failed in their duty on that occasion, should be open to any suspicion of a leaning to one side or the other. An officer from some remote station, who would bring to the inquiry a fresh mind wholly free from prepossessions, ought in the interest of all parties to be appointed to preside at the court-martial.

STEAMER REPORT.

MADRAS, 2, 11-10 A.M.

H. M.'s I. G. steamer Tenasserim, from Bombay, arrived.

The Viceroy returned to Calcutta from Barrackpore on Monday, much the better for the change.

Kate Bain, the girl who so mysteriously disappeared from Belgaum, and of whom no trace was found for some weeks, returned to that station on the 28th January, in charge of a police guard. The girl was found in a convent at Panjim, Goa. A correspondent at Belgaum states:—"Nothing much could be gleaned from the questions put to the Sisters, who in fact declined answering them. There is no doubt that they are implicated in her disappearance, their object being to make a nun of her. The case is likely to cause some attraction."

We learn that the books intended for the "Gibbs Collection" in the University Library, Bombay, have just arrived. They were purchased out of a fund raised here to commemorate the connection of the Hon. James Gibbs, member of the Viceroy's Council, with the Bombay University.

A native correspondent writes to the Madras Mail from Malabar, where polyandry is a recognised institution:—"I am an enumerator for the next census, and I have come across the following case in the course of my duty. A Nair female has five husbands, one of them being a Nambuderi, the second a Menon, the third a Wariar, the fourth an Emberan, and the fifth a Nair, all of whom live in her house, and at her expense, she being an heiress. How are these five husbands to be classed in the schedule, as married or single?"

The construction of the new Cathedral at Lahore is to be commenced at once. The principal difficulty at the present moment is to find a competent engineer to superintend the work, a difficulty by no means insurmountable.

Colonel Willes, the Commissary-General, is gazetted for leave, the Pioneer says, preparatory to quitting his appointment, which he will have to do in a few days, on succeeding to colonel's allowance. Colonel Willes has held the post for nearly twelve years, and now those immediately below him being all of nearly as long service as himself, will be precluded thereby from succeeding to the vacancy, or at most can have but a brief occupancy of it. Several retirements from the department are now pending, and altogether, with the probability of the Transport being organised as a part of the Commissariat, the prospects of candidates for this branch of the service are unusually favourable at the present time.

Mr. Wakefield, Deputy Commissioner of Ludhiana, the Allahabad paper states, is seriously ill, and Mr. Bullock, Judicial Assistant Commissioner, Jullundur, has been transferred temporarily to Ludhiana in his place.

Major Badcock, of the Commissariat Department, and Mr. A. Stogdon, Deputy Commissioner of Lahore, are to be deputed on special duty to award compensation to camel-owners who lost their animals in the late campaign in Afghanistan.

It is stated that orders have already been passed for the immediate re-establishment of the Government Press at Simla.

The land revenue of the N. W. Provinces during the year 1878-79 showed an aggregate of Rs. 5,49,59,771 as against an aggregate of Rs. 5,17,85,248, representing an increase of Rs. 31,74,523 for the last year reported on. The Government report on this states that from a revenue point of view the figures are decidedly satisfactory, and they show that the tax-paying ability of the province has been in no degree permanently impaired by the recent seasons of drought. With regard to suits and applications under the rent law, the figures show a marked increase in litigation. The increase in the number of applications filed was very large, no less than 41 per cent., which is stated to be explained by the fact that with the return of agricultural prosperity the struggle between landlord and tenant, which languished in bad years, recommenced. "Throughout the provinces a general desire was shown by landlords to prevent the acquisition of proprietary rights by tenants, and the result of the litigation, as a whole, was in their favour."

The Standard's announcement regarding the contemplated early abolition of the Vernacular Press Act naturally attracts the attention of the native papers. The Bombay Samachar fervently hopes that this news may prove true, and remarks that the fact that the repeal of the Act was not made immediately after the assumption of power by the present Ministry did much to shake popular confidence in their assurances. The Soudagar urges the entire inutility of the measure, evidenced by the meagre use hitherto made of it, as a powerful reason for immediately removing what is only "a blot on the British name and an insult to the people of India."

In an article regarding the employment of Bengal Cavalry in South Africa the Englishman stated that "some years ago few men were a match for our present Commander-in-Chief as a mounted swordsman." The Military Secretary has now written to the Englishman deprecating the compliment passed on the Commander-in-Chief's swordsmanship, saying—"When writing this remark you doubtless had in view Sir Neville Chamberlain, Commander-in-Chief, Madras, who throughout his service has been so noted as a mounted swordsman."

The veracity of native witnesses was strikingly illustrated in the recent trial of Westwell and Smith, two soldiers of the 81st Regiment, at the Lahore High Court, for manslaughter. A native witness for the prosecution, who had made rather a lengthy deposition before the magistrate at Forozepore in connection with this case, and who had taken an active part in holding down Smith when Westwell shot Rullia, and who subsequently figured conspicuously in the pursuing crowd and at the thanna in the city, when put on his oath before Justice Plowden denied categorically every material statement made by him in the magistrate's court. It appeared to the court that there was possibly some mistake as to the identity of this witness, and the following questions were put to him:—

Court.—Are you the same person who gave evidence in this case before the magistrate at Ferozepore?

Witness.—No.

Court repeats the question.

Witness.—No, I gave no evidence before the magistrate.

Court.—Did you not appear before the magistrate in this case?

Witness.—No, I never appeared before any one.

Court.—I warn you to be careful of what you are saying. Did you or did you not appear before the magistrate and give evidence in this case?

Witness.—I think I recollect having said a few words to the magistrate.

(His deposition before the magistrate is then read out to him.)

Court.—Did you make this deposition before the magistrate?

Witness.—Yes.

Court.—Now is this deposition true, or is the one you have just made before this court true?

Witness.—The statement I made before the magistrate is true, and all I have just said are lies.

A serious accident occurred about two o'clock on Friday morning on the Punjab Northern State Railway some 17 miles up the line, resulting in the wrecking of two goods-trains, and injury to some of the guards and one driver. The up goods-train, while approaching an intermediate station, was run into by one approaching from the opposite direction. This latter train, instead of stopping at the station for a line-clear message, dashed through it, and carrying no light, could not be observed by the other, until it was too late. The down mixed train was in consequence delayed for nearly 12 hours. Up to Friday evening the line was still blocked with the débris. The driver who ran his train through the station, without ascertaining whether the line was clear or not, the Lahore paper states, is in custody.

There is nothing satisfactory to report from Ireland, says the London Statesman, except it be the "boycotting" of Mr. Bence Jones. It must not be supposed from this that we approve of that practice in general; but in the "boycotting" of Mr. Bence Jones there is a retributive justice which must commend itself to all candid and well-regulated minds. Mr. Bence Jones, as he himself tells us, is "a landlord who has tried to do his duty;" and apparently the primary duty, as he conceives it, of such a landlord is to make himself disagreeable all round. So Mr. Bence Jones shot foxes, poisoned hounds, evicted tenants, evaded the provisions of the Land Act of 1870, and, as a magistrate, acted upon system in a harsh and arbitrary manner. All this time he never ceased to thank God he was not as other men were—fox-hunters, tenants liable to eviction, or farm labourers—but that marvel of creation, "a landlord who tried to do his duty." He looked round upon his estate of Lisselane in the spirit of an Irish Nebuchadnezzar, "Behold this great Babylon which I have built!" It was time that some humiliation should fall upon a gentleman so marvellously exalted in his own conceit; and the unmitigated astonishment which has fallen upon Mr. Bence Jones since his fall would elicit a smile from the most serious. Mr. Bence Jones interprets his "boycotting" as a manifest proof that the glory and greatness of the Empire has departed. For "party politics," he tells us, "he can honestly say that he does not care a rush." It is the lost "honour of the country" which afflicts him so grievously. "Since the days of civilization began" (this is Mr. Bence Jones' opinion) "never were law and order so openly defied." Courage, Mr. Bence Jones, courage! The British Empire has weathered worse storms than that involved in the "boycotting" of a "landlord who tried to do his duty" in the singular fashion which you have adopted.

Captain Boycott's friends, Truth considers, will be peculiarly interested in a case of "boycotting" which has occurred not in Ireland, but in Scotland, in the country of Dumfries, on the property of the Duke of Buccleuch, indeed in the village which adjoins the park of Drumlanrig Castle. It is alleged that an ex-inn-keeper has been driven out of the village, the inhabitants being forbidden to have any dealings with him in his present capacity of bailiff, because some years since he offended the Duke's agents by charging the Tory candidate for the county what they thought too much for the use of his conveyances on a polling day. It is stated further that long ago a retired "writer," who settled at Thornhill, was also driven away, as the issuing of a ukase from the Castle caused every door to be slammed in his face.

On January 12 a deputation of gentlemen from Mid Lothian waited upon Mr. Gladstone for the purpose of calling his special attention to a petition in favour of legalizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister, which has recently been signed by one-half of the entire residental electorate of that county. The deputation had previously been favoured with an interview with the Lord Advocate, to whom all the details of this movement were fully explained, and through whose courtesy the main facts were conveyed to Mr. Gladstone prior to the reception in Downing-street. The Prime Minister expressed his great pleasure at receiving the repudation, and assured them that it would at all times, when the state of public business permitted, afford him much gratification to meet any body of his constituents in reference to questions in which they were interested. An address was laid before the right hon. gentleman, accompanied by a request that he would kindly introduce the petition in Parliament, and read its prayer in the manner adopted by his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales in reference to a similar petition from Scotland last year. Mr. Gladstone, in his reply, assured the deputation that while in the present state of public business, and especially in face of the enormous pressure occasioned by the condition of affairs in Ireland, it would be impossible for him to give any explicit pledges regarding either English or Scotch legislation, which, he feared, must necessarily suffer, he would do all in his power to promote the object the deputation had at heart, and would certainly with much pleasure present the petition to Parliament as they desired.

Mr. Edmund Yates tells the readers of the World:—I am in a position to state on indubitable authority that the Queen did not consent to the original draught of her most gracious Speech, and thus it was that the train which was to take Lord Spencer and his colleagues back to town was delayed more than three hours. The telegraph wires were working during the whole of that time between the noble lord and the Premier, the ultimate result being the modified and almost Conservative Speech which the Chancellor, in the absence of her Majesty, read to both Houses of Parliament.

The Oxford University Boat Club sustained a severe loss on the 6th January, in the destruction by fire of their new boat-house, which was on the point of completion, and would have been a most handsome and lordly structure. The building was completely wrecked; and thirty-seven boats which were already housed there were burnt to atoms. The total loss is estimated at over £3,500. It is unknown how the fire originated.

"Atlas" writes:—There is no idea of trying the Hon. G. Vernon, of the 12th Lancers, by court-martial, for his behaviour to the Governor of Bombay. Mr. Vernon's conduct upon the occasion does not appear to have been so serious as it at first seemed. He was placed at the time in a position of some delicacy, and the worst which can be said of him is that he acted with extreme thoughtlessness. I am glad to hear that Mr. Vernon, since he has been in India, has made a new and a better start, and that he is developing into a smart and efficient officer.

The Committee of the French Jockey Club have decided that a priest may be a member of that institution. Truth relates that Count H., having served several years in a cavalry regiment, has left the service, and is about to take orders; but he does not propose to withdraw from his club, as he desires to be able to give dinners there to his friends if so disposed. A member in a priest's dress will be at least a novelty in the club.

THE KOLHAPUR CONSPIRACY.

(FROM OUR OWN REPORTER.)

TWENTY-SECOND DAY, JANUARY 31.

The following statement was made by the accused Krishna:—My name is Krishna bin Malkarjun Otari, Maratha, age 50, occupation formerly potter, now mendicant, residence Ankale, Petta Chikadi, formerly native of Sholapur. I have five brothers, and the description about me given by them and now read to me is true. I had a fall from a swing on one Nagpanchi holiday some years back while I was at home. I have never seen Anna Bowa personally with my own eyes. I have heard his name. I saw Dajee at Rasewade in the house of Baba Deshpande, who called me there to administer some medicine to his child. I do not know the reason why Dajee came to Rasewade. Dajee had some pain in his eyes, and asked me to come to his village, Kodawade, to give him medicine, four months ago. I once went to see Ghatte Bawa. I had two horses with me, and a servant from Ratnagiri. I was given food by Govindbhut of Vaghorde. Rambhut and Dajee were not there at that time. I saw the Wardee-major Subrarao at Inglaz, and not at Gizawanee, in the year of the last famine (1877). I was never called Chima Sahib by any body, nor told any body that I was Chima Sahib Maharaj. I am not in the habit of putting on a necklace of kowdies. I have got one rosary of rudrakshas. I was never told by Anna Bawa or Rambhut that I was to be seated on the throne of Kolhapur. I was residing at Chikowadi. I was called by the police, and came to Inglaz. Rambhut never paid me a visit purposely coming to Dessai's wadi. Since my arrival at Kolhapur I was acquainted with Rambhut. On my way to Borgaum I was offered some milk and food by the patil of Mahe. I accepted that offer, and went on to Koge and put up at the temple. I had a cock-fight at Bilid. I had two fighting-cocks of mine. I had no watch, and in order to get up from bed early in the morning I used to awake at the cock-crow; and for this reason I have two cocks in my custody.

The statement of Gulab Sidh before the committing magistrate was read in the court and recorded. He said that his statement before the committing magistrate was not true, as he was tutored by the police.

Rambhut made the following statement.—I did not cause the letter to be written to Chima Sahib Maharaj. I did not know him. I have never seen him. I went to Karadge to see my sister, who lost her husband in the month of Margashirsha, Shake year 1801. On my arrival at Kolhapur I was introduced to Khiru by Ramjan and Bala Mongole. The letter addressed to Chima Sahib I do not know, nor is the signature I see now at the close of the letter in my handwriting. Since Khiru has been confined in the letter was to be sent to Nepaul does not belong to me. I do not know it. The papers exhibit Nos. 10, 60, and 62 were found in my house in the police search. The letter exhibit No. 10 was sent by me to Ganoo Gizawanee, in that letter "Bala" means Khiru, and Matoshri his wife. Khiru, Vittoo, and Jagoo were coming to my house to dig for hidden treasure I was told that treasure would be found after applying ointment on the palm of a payalio. The men that used to come to Ganoo Gizawane in my absence were told by me to collect some rupees from a sowkar, as I had a mind to buy chillies. What I wrote in this letter about Narayanlingi Ravut, Lingayat, Mahomedans, and Europeans under arrest in Shukrawar chowdi the Political Agent and State karbhari came there, but they did not ask me anything. I was told by the police to mention the names of Shaik Allum, Shaik Ameen, and Shaik Kadekar. Scotland last year. Mr. Gladstone, in his reply, assured the deputation that while in the present state of public business, and especially in face of the enormous pressure occasioned by the condition of affairs in Ireland, it would be impossible for him to give any explicit pledges regarding either English or Scotch legislation, which, he feared, must necessarily suffer, he would do all in his power to promote the object the deputation had at heart, and would certainly with much pleasure present the petition to Parliament as they desired.

Mr. Edmund Yates tells the readers of the World:—I am in a position to state on indubitable authority that the Queen did not consent to the original draught of her most gracious Speech, and thus it was that the train which was to take Lord Spencer and his colleagues back to town was delayed more than three hours. The telegraph wires were working during the whole of that time between the noble lord and the Premier, the ultimate result being the modified and almost Conservative Speech which the Chancellor, in the absence of her Majesty, read to both Houses of Parliament.

The Oxford University Boat Club sustained a severe loss on the 6th January, in the destruction by fire of their new boat-house, which was on the point of completion, and would have been a most handsome and lordly structure. The building was completely wrecked; and thirty-seven boats which were already housed there were burnt to atoms. The total loss is estimated at over £3,500. It is unknown how the fire originated.

"Atlas" writes:—There is no idea of trying the Hon. G. Vernon, of the 12th Lancers, by court-martial, for his behaviour to the Governor of Bombay. Mr. Vernon's conduct upon the occasion does not appear to have been so serious as it at first seemed. He was placed at the time in a position of some delicacy, and the worst which can be said of him is that he acted with extreme thoughtlessness. I am glad to hear that Mr. Vernon, since he has been in India, has made a new and a better start, and that he is developing into a smart and efficient officer.

The Committee of the French Jockey Club have decided that a priest may be a member of that institution. Truth relates that Count H., having served several years in a cavalry regiment, has left the service, and is about to take orders; but he does not propose to withdraw from his club, as he desires to be able to give dinners there to his friends if so disposed. A member in a priest's dress will be at least a novelty in the club.

BOMBAY GYMKHANA.

The competition for this cup is open to members of the Gymkhana only. The match is the best of three sets of eleven games each, no vantage games. The final games must be completed by the 25th February.

The winner will be entitled to hold the cup for a year, his name being engraved on the pedestal of the cup; he will also receive a prize.

Entries will close on the 16th February.

GOLF.

The competition for the St. Andrew's Medal was finished yesterday morning on the maidan, and resulted in a by no means easy win for Mr. Burn; Mr. Melvin and Mr. Arnot tied for second place.

The Handicap prize resulted in a tie between Mr. Stiven and Mr. Skinner, who will play their match off this morning.

Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. Bottles, 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Sold by all Chemists. LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR-RESTORER will darken grey hair, and in a few days completely bring back the natural colour. The effect is superior to that produced by an instantaneous dye, and does not injure the skin. Large bottles, 1s. 6d.—Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive hair-restorer.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR-RESTORER
is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. It produces a perfectly natural shade, and is absolutely harmless. Recommended for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair.

LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR-RESTORER.
—Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, LOCKYER'S RESTORER is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, as the sulphur fails in its action on the colour glands, always restoring and maintaining that which has been lost. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottles, 1s. 6d. Sold by Chemists, Hair-dressers, and Perfumers in London, the country, and throughout the world.
Lockyer's is equal to any of the high-priced preparations.

BOMBAY RACES.

CHRONOGRAPH WATCHES FOR RACES.

THE new Pocket CHRONOGRAPH WATCH, INVENTED and MANUFACTURED by Messrs. F. L. & Co., is not only the BEST, but also the CHEAPEST ever offered for sale.

The Watch had a marked success at the Bombay Races in January last, and also at the Secunderabad, Mhow, Meerut, and Calcutta Races, and Gentlemen connected with Racing will be glad to learn that a fine supply is again to hand.

IN GERMAN SILVER CASE	...	...	...Rs. 80
„ FINE „	„	...	...	... „ 85
„ 18-CARAT GOLD	„	...	...	... „ 150

Description :—The Watch is middle-size, keyless, patent lever, crystal glass front and back, going 32 hours.

There are two dials, one in front with the hour, minute, and short second hands, the other is on the back of the watch divided in seconds and fractions of a second. Over it runs the long second or chronograph hand. This dial is cut out from the centre up to near the seconds, having the whole chronograph mechanism visible to the eye.

On pressing on the winding nut the second hand will start from the fig. 12, on pressing again the hand will stop immediately, on pressing a third time the hand will fly back to the starting point. In a case of false start this peculiarity of the watch is invaluable.

We guarantee the watch to regulate within a few seconds in 24 hours, the difference in time for 5 minutes being therefore only from 0·02 to 0·05 of a second, a result impossible to arrive at with chronographs going only from 15 minutes to 2 hours.

TRADE MARK—PHOSPHODYNE. SANCTIONED BY HER MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT

Protected under the "Trade Marks Act" (3 and 30 Vict., ch. 91.) Enacted by the "Queen's Most Excellent Majesty," 20th August, 1875.

HEALTH, STRENGTH, AND ENERGY.

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE.

Discovered and so named, A.D. 1862, by R. D. LALOR, M. D.

To residents in India, China, and the Colonies it will prove invaluable as a Reliable Liver Tonic and a Vitalising Restorative.

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE

Is a pure solution of PHOSPHORUS, not at all unpleasant in Flavour or Appearance, being a Perfectly Bright Liquor combined with Quinia Cypripiden and Xanthoxylin, the Wonder of Modern Chemistry, free from Strychnia, and all dangerously Active Drugs Pronounced by the Highest Medical Authority, the Only Safe, Prompt, and Reliable PHOSPHORIC REMEDY for over-worked Brain, Worry, Anxiety, Excitement, Late Hours, Business Pressure, Nervous Prostration, Nerve Pain, Wasting Diseases, Asthmatic, Consumptive, Stomach and Liver Complaints, Impaired Nutrition, Impoverished Impure Blood, Premature Decline, and all morbid conditions of the system, dependent upon the deficiency of the Vital Forces.

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE

Purifies and Enriches the Blood, Clears the Skin, thoroughly Invigorates the Brain, Nerves, and Muscles, Re-energises the Failing Functions of Life by supplying the PHOSPHORIC element which has been wasted, and thus imparts Energy and Fresh Vitality to the exhausted Nervo-Electric Force, and Rapidly Cures every form of Nervous Debility, Failing Powers, Paralysis, Nervous Mind and Heart Diseases, from whatever cause.

DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE

Being a natural RESTORATIVE, its Energising Effects are not followed by corresponding re-action, but are PERMANENT, and are frequently shown from the first day of its administration by a remarkable increase of Nervous Power, with a feeling of Vigour, Strength, and Comfort, to which the patient has long been unaccustomed. DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE gives back to the Human structure, in a suitable form, the Phosphoric or Lively Animating element of life which has been wasted, and exerts an important influence directly on the BRAIN, SPINAL MARROW, and NERVOUS SYSTEM, of a Nutritive, Tonic, and Invigorating character; thereby checking all wasting of the Vital Fluid, and the more exhausting Processes of Life, maintaining that Buoyant Energy o the Brain and Mucular System which renders the MIND CHEERFUL, HAPPY, BRILLIANT, and ENERGETIC; entirely overcoming that Dull, Inactive, and Sluggish disposition which many persons experience in all their actions.

TRUTH and RIGHT versus FALSEHOOD, PIRACY, and FRAUD.

A BASE FRAUD is being perpetrated by the advertisement of a Worthless Imitation of Dr. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE in the Newspaper Press of India and the Colonies, by some Ignorant, Unscrupulous Pretenders, who do not Publish their Address; the nature of which may be guessed from the fact that the originators of these Advertisements DO NOT, AND DARE NOT, insert them in the Papers Published in the United Kingdom, neither may the Spurious Article, sought to be Imposed upon the Public abroad by the Fraudulent use of my Trade Mark Phosphodyne, and the Base Piracy of my Advertisements and my Patients' Testimonials, BE SOLD in the British Isles.

NOTICE AND WARNING.—To Medicine Vendors and the Public in Great Britain, India, China, and the Colonies. —DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE is the only Medicine bearing the name PHOSPHODYNE that has the Sanction of the British Government, and for which her Majesty's Registrar of "Trade Marks" has granted Certificates to DR. LALOR, given him the Sole Right to the Trade Mark PHOSPHODYNE in England, Australia, Africa, China, Canada and India. Therefore DR. LALOR'S is the only Legitimate and Genuine PHOSPHODYNE, and none other has or can be Registered under the "Trades Marks Act" of Great Britain. Statements to the contrary are Impudent Falsehoods.

IGNORANT AND COWARDLY DOGS MAY BARK, BUT DARE NOT BITE, NEITHER MAY THEY EXHIBIT THEIR FALSE TALES IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

Dr. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE is sold in Bottles at 4s. 6d. and 11s., by all Export, Wholesale and Retail Medicine Vendors throughout the World.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—NONE IS GENUINE UNLESS the name Dr. Lalor's Phosphodyne, London, England, is blown in the Glass of each Bottle, and every Bottle bears the British Government Stamp, with the words DR. LALOR'S PHOSPHODYNE, London, England, engraved thereon by Order of Her Majesty's Honourable Commissioners, IF NOT IT IS A FORGERY, AND YOU HAVE BEEN IMPOSED ON BY A WORTHLESS IMITATION.
